LABOR AND THE CANAL

Terms of Eight-hour Law Not Yet Applied

Other Than American Diggers Will Be Required

Anti-Smoke Order is Issued. Weekly Crop Report.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The question of the eight-hour law of 1910 applied to the construction of the Panama Canal, he said that as the question had not been officially presented to the commission he would not attempt to foreshadow the attitude that the commission would take. The problem of labor supply would require careful consideration, aside from the number of hours per diem that such labor as could be procured should be employed.

"There has been some talk of an attempt to limit work on the American laborers, such as that," said the admiral, "would, I believe, prevent the construction of the canal. We anticipate securing a number of laborers from the negroes of the Southern States, but we could not get enough to build the canal. The negroes of the South would not leave their present employment for this work in sufficient numbers."

The admiral thought that, at the beginning, work would be prosecuted by negro labor from Jamaica, but that later, Chinese coolies would be employed. At present, about seven hundred persons are employed on the canal, and before long a number will be added to the work with the surveying parties which will shortly take the field.

ANTI-SMOKE ORDINANCE

PRESIDENT UPHOLDING IT

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
WASHINGTON, May 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The President has issued an order directing the heads of all executive departments to comply with the law of the District of Columbia against permitting smoke to issue from chimneys, and, where necessary, to install smoke-consuming devices in the machinery of the public buildings. This order is the result of the failure of the authorities to secure the conviction of public officials arrested for violations of the anti-smoke law.

In his order, the President states that the government of the United States should have no more privileges than the most humble citizen, and that it should comply with the law strictly as any citizen or corporation.

WEATHER CROP REPORT

WEATHER SATISFACTORY

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, May 24.—The weekly crop report of the Weather Bureau states that the weather for the week was much too cool in the districts east of the Mississippi River, as a whole the temperature conditions were much more favorable than in the preceding week, the States of the Missouri Valley and the Rocky Mountain and Pacific regions, exhibiting highly satisfactory temperatures. Drought continues in the South and East Gulf States and over the southern plateau region, and the need of rain is beginning to be felt in central and eastern Texas and on the north Pacific Coast. Winter wheat has advanced considerably in Nebraska, and generally in Missouri.

On the Pacific Coast winter wheat sustained slight damage from drying winds in California, but the crop promises to be good.

Cut-and-Dried Presbyterian Tactics Attacked

Lack of Prominent Names on Board Causes Shock

Baptists Out Against Divorce. Methodists for Union.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BUFFALO, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Presbyterian General Assembly opened this morning with a warm attack on the cut-and-dried methods of the assembly, "whereby," said one of the speakers, "a few persons control the platform and carry it out to certain favored persons." Some of the most skillful politicians in the country are members of the Presbyterian church, and when they come to the General Assembly, they bring their methods with them and many of the ministers are apt learners.

MORE RADICAL ACTION

France Preparing for Violent Times of it in Her Quarrel With the Pope.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
PARIS, May 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The government has decided to fully support the Vatican controversy, culminating in the recall of M. Loubet to the Chamber of Deputies. A violent debate is expected and the government is preparing itself for more radical action than heretofore taken, since it is anticipated that an effort will be made to abolish the French embassy to the Holy See.

Foreign Minister Delcasse will support the diplomatic position with the Vatican and Premier Combes will set forth the attitude and intentions of the government. The officials express the belief that the embassy will not be suppressed, but they say the present feeling may lead to that result when the appropriation for sustaining the embassy comes before the Chamber this month.

The time the budget for foreign affairs will be considered. But some parliamentary elements are seeking the immediate consideration of the matter with a view of abolishing the embassy.

The officials here do not credit the report circulated by the Tribune of Rome that M. Loubet has indefinitely postponed his proposed visit to President Loubet in order to avoid friction with the Pope. The Spanish King's visit to President Loubet has been settled upon on principle but the days have not yet been considered. Members of the diplomatic corps say it is likely that the protest to which France took exception was addressed by the Vatican to Spain. This was the only protest containing the clause intimating that the papal nuncio would be withdrawn if other and similar visits were made to King Victor Emmanuel.

ALFONSO'S VISIT ASSURED

PARIS, May 24.—The Madrid correspondent of the Figaro says that the rumors to the effect that King Alfonso intended to abandon his proposed visit to President Loubet in order to avoid friction with the Pope are unfounded. The visit has been officially decided upon, and will certainly take place.

CORPSE FROM THE CALUMET

CHICAGO, May 24.—The body of a man was taken from the Calumet River tonight, supposed to be that of W. C. Pratt, secretary of the Edison National Watch Company, who disappeared November 24, 1902. It is thought he committed suicide.

THE ELDEST MEMBERS

The oldest members of the assembly arrived today. Rev. Dr. Joel T. Laidlaw of Danville, Ky., who is now 86 years of age and was licensed to preach in 1841 and he still preaches.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
BUFFALO, May 24.—The work of the Presbyterian General Assembly to-day consisted of a consideration of the standing committee being presented by Rev. John F. Carson of Brooklyn, chairman of the committee. The report dealt upon the expediency of more systematic course in the matter of funds for home missions and advocated a union of efforts among the churches to that end.

THE WEAK COLLEGES

BUFFALO (N. Y.) May 24.—A matter of general interest to members of the Presbyterian Church is the conclusion reached by the committee appointed by the last General Assembly to raise $12,000,000 with which to endow colleges, especially the weaker ones. The committee has recommended the union of the board of aid for colleges and the Endowment Committee under the name of the "College Board," and has recommended that the board be placed in the hands of laymen who devoted their lives to amelioration of economic conditions in this country. The report shows the amount of money received this year was $200,000. The amount needed for next year's work is $1,000,000.

have been made by an international committee to fittingly celebrate the centennial of the Louisiana Purchase at St. Louis, October 23 and November 1, and the committee recommends that all evangelical churches of every name throughout the country shall observe Sunday, October 23, as a day of thanksgiving and rejoicing for what has been done "in bringing the West to this knowledge and obedience of Jesus Christ and a day of consecration to renewed efforts to carry on the work, so gloriously begun."

It is the duty of every church to be a special offering for the work of the Board of Missions, and that especially the churches west of the Mississippi River, which have both had and during the century shall recognize the occasion with a special offering of thanksgiving. The report was unanimously adopted.

MOMENTOUS QUESTION

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
DALLAS (Tex.) May 24.—The General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church today took up the momentous question of church union. Final action is not expected before Wednesday night. The report of the committee was defended by its chairman, Dr. W. H. Black, and other members.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
MOBILE (Ala.) May 24.—At today's session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, Port Worth was chosen for the meeting, place next year.

The Committee on Closer Relations With Other Presbyterian Churches submitted a report today, recommending a conference with representatives of other churches on the subject, which was made a special order for tomorrow.

ALSO AGAINST MORMONISM

MORE BAPTIST RESOLUTIONS

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CLEVELAND, May 24.—Resides the resolutions of the Northern Baptist Home Mission Society today unanimously adopted resolutions condemning Mormonism. The resolutions were adopted after a strong speech by Rev. Bruce Kinney, general missionary of the Northern Baptist Home Mission Society, who said that the present generation will see the "finish of polygamy, and that Mormonism is losing ground. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, the recent investigation at Washington has revealed the anti-Christian attitude of the Mormon hierarchy, and

"Whereas, the officers in Utah are enforcing the laws against polygamy and polygamous cohabitation, be it therefore resolved, that we, representatives of the Northern Baptist Home Mission Society, in annual meeting assembled, express our sincere sympathy with all remedial missionary efforts now being made to bring about the redemption of the Mormon people."

"Resolved, that we express our hope that the Smoot investigation may be most thorough, and if sufficient grounds be found, that Mr. Smoot be removed from his seat."

"Resolved, that we also petition Congress to take such action as may be proper, looking toward a constitutional amendment, giving Congress lawmaking power in all matters pertaining to federal lands and some other bodies."

Invitations to hold next year's anniversary were received from Portland, Ore., and St. Louis. The decision was left to the Executive Board of the three societies. It is probable that St. Louis will be chosen.

The anniversary were ended tonight by the singing of hymns in the Euclid avenue Baptist church.

FIGHT FOR ORIENTAL TRADE

"In Japan, they have built up a large marine; they have protected tonnage, but I do not remember the details."

"Our business on the Pacific is hard; we have to compete with all nations and the market is very hard for the oriental trade. And I think we have placed obstructions in the way of this trade."

"We cannot comply with the regulations placed on us and compete with ships of other nations. We have been forced out of the market by the tariff."

"I don't think you will make much of a success of buying a merchant marine; it won't stay with you. You must get people interested, but there does not seem to be much disposition on the part of the people to go into shipping."

"Whether to a question of Representative McDermott. Hill said that his two big ships cost 10 to 20 per cent more to build here than abroad."

CUT OUT THE BODY

Ida May McKay Tells How Her Mother Burned Her Father's Corpse

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
MONTICELLO (N. Y.) May 24.—Ida May McKay, the daughter of Mrs. Kate Taylor, who is undergoing a second trial for the murder of her husband, Life Taylor, today told the story of the killing of her stepfather, as witnessed by herself.

The girl related the details of the shooting and of the disposal of the body, which was most revolting. Her mother, she said, cut off Taylor's head with an ax and put it in the stove. Then the older woman took a lighted lantern and swung it around three times before the body was placed in the house. He asked if Life was dead and received an affirmative answer.

Mrs. Taylor again took the ax and tried to cut off one of Taylor's legs; then laid the ax down before she had succeeded. Taylor took the ax and finished cutting off the leg.

Ida says she went to bed and left Taylor and her mother together with the body. When she arose next morning, Taylor had disappeared and her mother was still burning the body.

At the previous trial it was brought out that Mrs. Taylor cut up the trunk of the body and hid it in a cloth sack and placed it in the washbowl, which was in the cellar. Mrs. Taylor took the ashes from the stove and pounded up the bones and fed them to the chickens.

The skull was not burned and it was brought back to the house and put in the stove again.

as I asked why we could not get ships to carry our goods. Senator Hanna said he would see me in the morning and he did. The result was that he opened up his campaign in Ohio on the ship subsidy.

EXPORT BOUNTY REMEDY

"Then your remedy," asked McDermott, "is an export bounty?"

"Yes, that is it."

"You seem to be very pessimistic over the outlook," said Senator Gallinger.

"That is because I have looked at it from a purely business standpoint. I built these two ships simply as a regulator for my experiment."

There are only two courses open—either an export bounty or government assistance, which would rise into very large figures."

"Then you are convinced that we shall have to give some sort of government aid, go out of business?" asked Senator Lodge.

"Exactly. If you fix a limit of ten years on the subsidies, the favored party must make the cost of his plant in the ten years. Otherwise, he will sell out to the other fellow."

"How much do you think would be required for subsidy?" asked Senator McKelvey.

"Oh, $10,000,000, or $15,000,000 would get a lot of tonnage. You might take it out of the River and Harbor Bill, but I tell you the great big navigational is to be on steel rails."

"That Japanese line you spoke of, asked Senator Lodge, "is it really really subsidized?"

"I talked to you about this; he was with me two or three days and is very capable. If there is a bounty for the line it is so skillfully covered up that I was not able to discover it."

The hearing will continue tomorrow.

GREATEST OF ALL RACES.

New Yorkers Wild Over the Brooklyn Handicap.

Foremost Horses of America Will Face the Flag.

Fast Prize Fights in New York—Poolroom War.

NEW YORK, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Turf enthusiasts are now beginning to realize that, granted fair weather and a good track, Thursday, they will see the greatest horse race ever run on the American turf, if not in the world. At Gravesend, the second of the great turf events of the year, will be contested, and with McChesney and his Irish Lad and The Pickle, to say nothing of a dozen crackjack thoroughbreds of scarcely less repute, over the mile and a quarter journey, there will be a contest such as it was never given to a metropolitan race course to see before.

Excepting Waterbury, every star of the Yankee turf is scheduled to face the flag. From start to finish it will be a bruising, killing race, the pace of which may cripple more than one contender, and the finish of which should furnish as thrilling a spectacle as did the first Brooklyn Handicap, "way back in 1887, when Dry Monopoly, Blue Wing and Hidalgo flashed under the wire only heads apart. The following are the entries, weights, jockeys and odds:

Name, weight, jockey.	Odds.
Irish Lad, 125 lbs., J. H. Jones.	2 to 1.
The Pickle, 125 lbs., J. H. Jones.	2 to 1.
Dry Monopoly, 125 lbs., J. H. Jones.	2 to 1.

FAST PRIZEFIGHT.

TEMPLE AND HAGHEY CONTEST.

NEW YORK, May 24.—One of the fastest prizefights brought off here since the Horton law was repealed has occurred in a dance hall on the upper East Side, Larry Temple, colored, and Haghey, local heavyweight, were the principals and the negro secured the decision at the end of the tenth round. Haghey's clever defense alone saved him from being knocked out, although he had all the better of the fight for five rounds. A big crowd paid $10 a ticket to see the fight, after having journeyed to the entrance of the dance hall in cabs to avoid the police.

RUFE TURNER AT HOME.

BURKE'S SPONGE GOES UP.

STOCKTON, May 24.—Rufe Turner won his first fight with Jack Burke tonight in eight rounds. Turner outclassed Burke, but the latter was a sammy fellow, and wanted to continue fighting when his second threw up the sponge at the opening of the ninth round.

Burke's manager had a bet of $200 that Turner would not knock Burke out in eight rounds, and he held out to win that bet.

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

SWAMPED AT PITTSBURGH.

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Seven hits and four errors in the first two innings completely swamped Boston, and although Wilhelm did good work, the game was hopelessly gone, as Boston could do nothing with Miller's pitching. The attendance was 3600.

Pittsburgh, 7; hits, 11; errors, 1. Boston, 0; hits, 4; errors, 4. Batteries—Miller and Phelps; Wilhelm and Moran.

AMSON BEATS CHAPLIN.

At Morley's last night, Amson and Chaplin were reported as the winners of a 40 to 20 score, the winner's high run being three. There was a great deal of safety play by both men, and as a consequence the game was a very long one, lasting more than 120 innings. The game this evening will be between Merrill and Miller.

SAN FRANCISCO GOT SHUT OUT.

COULD NOT MAKE HITS ENOUGH TO LAND A MAN.

Portland Bumped Jones in the First Inning for Six Hits and Half as Many Runs, but He Was Effective After That—Seattle Deposes of Tacoma in a Close Finish.

PORTLAND, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] San Francisco could not get enough hits together to get a man around the bases, and the northerners felled in fine style. In the first inning, Portland bumped Jones for six hits and three runs, but he was effective thereafter. Score:

Team	Runs	Hits	Errors

COOPER MAY PITCH.

CHANCE OF ANOTHER TRY.

George Cooper, the left-hand pitcher, who helped Pete Lehman to win the pennant two years ago, and the venerable boss of the Oakland club are due to meet some time today to talk over the past. Rumor hath it that Curly George, of the speedy pitch and long hair, is to be called upon to pitch for the Oakland club, and that he is not unlikely that Cooper, if he promises to be a good Indian, may pitch another chance. He can still pitch good ball when in condition.

ANOTHER PITCHER.

"DOC" REISINGER THE MAN.

Another capable pitcher, who can play utility roles as well, would be a welcome addition to the 7-400 staff just now, and one who would still fill the bill is in sight. Dr. Frank C. Reisinger is the man. He has always expressed a desire to play on the coast, and this is about the sixth time his name has been mentioned as a Los Angeles possibility. New Reisinger is not only a fine pitcher, but a fine player, and he must play here if he stays in professional ball. His name was on the list submitted by the Coast League when it went into the national league agreement. The local club put in a claim for him, and now Toledo, after Bandmaster Strobel has stalled off the claims of Baltimore, is to the man must give him up, thanks to a decision of the National Commission, which went into the national league agreement. Reisinger is a fair batsman, and a good reliable fielder in any position he may be put, without being a star. He is a good baserunner, and a capable pitcher, by no means a substitute for Dillon, but yet a man who will add considerably to the team if he plays on the coast. The team would be another addition to the ranks of the sawbones, and a good reliable fielder in any position he may be put, without being a star.

POOLROOM WAR HOT.

POLICE CAPTAIN IS THREATENED.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Threats of bodily harm to a police captain who took part in the general poolroom raids of yesterday, in the event of continued surveillance of the manner in which it has been conducted, were made by an attorney in open court today when some of the raid prisoners were arraigned. Lawyer Stephen O'Hara, who represented three men arrested in the raid on an alleged poolroom in East Thirty-second street, bitterly attacked Police Captain Shira, when his clients were arraigned in the Yorkville police court. He charged that the captain had unlawfully raided the place at various times.

"I warn the captain now," said Lawyer O'Hara, "that if he ever goes there again he will be shot."

Capt. Shira then made a formal complaint against the men, and the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

Commissioner McAdoo and Inspector Schmitt were served with subpoenas today to appear in court each brought in the City Court by John O'Reilly, counsel for Joseph Sell. Sell was one of the employees of the New York and New Jersey Distributing and Circulating Company, and was arrested in a recent raid on the company's office in the Park Row building. Twenty other men were arrested in the raid, and are now before a Supreme Court justice as to the legality of the raid made under the direction of the Police Commissioner.

Commissioner McAdoo announced today that as far as the present grand jury is concerned, the taking of testimony for the purpose of procuring evidence against Campbell's place will be done until the June grand jury is impaneled. The District Attorney's office has also come to an agreement with the counsel for Joseph Sell, and nothing further will be done in his case until the Appellate division renders the decision on the appeal.

FINISH WAS CLOSE.

SEATTLE DISPOSES OF TACOMA.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 24.—Seattle won in a close finish. Shields gave way to C. Hall in the ninth and Keefe with Fredrick in left field gave Tacoma three runs. Score:

Team	Runs	Hits	Errors
Seattle	5	11	0
Tacoma	4	10	2

Batteries—Shields, Hall and Blanks; Keefe, Overhill and Graham.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES.

BOSTON'S BUNCHED HITS TOLD.

BOSTON, May 24.—Boston bunched hits and took advantage of Chicago's misplays to win today's game. The contest was one-sided throughout. The attendance was 5000. Score:

Team	Runs	Hits	Errors
Boston	6	11	0
Chicago	2	10	2

Batteries: Dimpsey and Farrell; Walsh and New York-Jarvis.

NEW YORK ST. LOUIS.

NEW YORK, May 24.—St. Louis could do nothing with Chesbro's pitching today, and lost to New York, 1 to 0. The game was a safety with Chesbro's curves. Only one of the visitors reached third base. The attendance was 3000.

New York, 1; hits, 3; errors, 2. St. Louis, 0; hits, 3; errors, 2. Batteries: Chesbro and McGuire; Pety and Bugen.

STANFORD ATHLETES IN THE WINDY CITY.

CHICAGO, May 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Stanford track team arrived in Chicago by the Chicago and Northwestern this morning, in the fair good condition. At Carson, N.Y., the team limbered up with a short run, and at Green River, Wyo., next day, at an altitude of 5400 feet, the men went through several dashes without any apparent discomfort. While coming back to the car, Bell had the bad luck to bruise his knee pretty badly. It is hardly a chance, Monday the men had some good starting practice at Kearney, Neb.

The team is staying at Chicago Beach Hotel, overlooking the lake, and within easy walk of Marshall Field. This afternoon they received every courtesy of Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago. They have been given lockers in the university gymnasium and the use of the athletic field. A professional rubber has been thrown and afternoon until the first of next week, when they will ease down for the struggle, June 4.

Chicago is taking great interest in the Stanford team. Dola, whose condition is now all that could be desired, is expected to be seen in a record-breaking performance early next week. Hyde, in the shot-put, is far ahead of any man in this section, with the exception of the Californian, Rose, of Michigan. Manager Baird of Michigan fears that his team will be almost from the Coast men's invasion. Coach Stagg ranks Stanford among the first four, along with Michigan, Wisconsin and Chicago.

COOPER MAY PITCH.

CHANCE OF ANOTHER TRY.

George Cooper, the left-hand pitcher, who helped Pete Lehman to win the pennant two years ago, and the venerable boss of the Oakland club are due to meet some time today to talk over the past. Rumor hath it that Curly George, of the speedy pitch and long hair, is to be called upon to pitch for the Oakland club, and that he is not unlikely that Cooper, if he promises to be a good Indian, may pitch another chance. He can still pitch good ball when in condition.

ANOTHER PITCHER.

"DOC" REISINGER THE MAN.

Another capable pitcher, who can play utility roles as well, would be a welcome addition to the 7-400 staff just now, and one who would still fill the bill is in sight. Dr. Frank C. Reisinger is the man. He has always expressed a desire to play on the coast, and this is about the sixth time his name has been mentioned as a Los Angeles possibility. New Reisinger is not only a fine pitcher, but a fine player, and he must play here if he stays in professional ball. His name was on the list submitted by the Coast League when it went into the national league agreement. The local club put in a claim for him, and now Toledo, after Bandmaster Strobel has stalled off the claims of Baltimore, is to the man must give him up, thanks to a decision of the National Commission, which went into the national league agreement. Reisinger is a fair batsman, and a good reliable fielder in any position he may be put, without being a star. He is a good baserunner, and a capable pitcher, by no means a substitute for Dillon, but yet a man who will add considerably to the team if he plays on the coast. The team would be another addition to the ranks of the sawbones, and a good reliable fielder in any position he may be put, without being a star.

For the birds revealed strongly against being held by the neck until a hood was placed over their heads, when they were led to the entrance of the corral, where a large furniture van awaited them. Over a dozen pairs of socks were used in the operation, and the creatures were permitted to continue blindfold until they reached the railroad tracks a mile or so away. Luckily no accident to the ostriches took place and the legs were broken; the spectators were compelled to remain on the other side of the fence for fear that some irate spectator of the desert might escape and cause damage.

Just Arrived

An Exquisite Line of the Very Latest Ladies' Neckwear and Belts

Any attempt at detailed description of this new line would be utterly useless. For such variety, beauty and tastefulness has never before been shown in this line of goods. We content ourselves by mentioning a few of the newest. The Catall stock is of fine linen with six ends, beautifully embroidered in prismatic colors. Some of these Catall stocks have belts to match, the buckles of which are of the finest fire gilt, and some of them gun metal. Some of the belts are of gros grain silk with gun metal buckles, others are pure white linen with three pearl buttons in the back, and gilt buckles of various shapes, oblong, square and round; others of the belts have two straps and four buttons behind with gun metal or fire gilt buckles. The belts are military style and come in such variety that most any taste can readily be satisfied. We can say without fear of contradiction that this is the most extensive, and at the same time, most varied assortment of beautiful belts and neckwear ever brought to Los Angeles. BIG CUDAHY PLANT GONE.

Packing-house Near River Ruined by Fire.

A Three Hundred Thousand Dollar Loss.

Bright Blaze and Hot One. Lard Started it.

Fire in the plant of the Cudahy Packing Company, at 9 o'clock last night practically destroyed the immense cold-storage packing department and engine-room, causing a loss of between $250,000 and $300,000. The fire had its origin in what is known as the lard room to the third floor of the main five-story brick building facing the Los Angeles River, and quickly spread to the canning department, slaughter-room, and engine-room. Most of the plant is ruined. The inflammable nature of the contents of the packing-house was responsible for the rapid spread of the flames, and aided by a strong east wind, the entire plant, with the exception of the office, stables and one cold storage house, was soon enveloped, causing a brilliant glare which soon attracted thousands of persons to the scene. The exact origin of the fire is unknown, but it is attributed to a setting of a kettle of lard in the rendering-room by careless employees. When the blaze started it was utterly impossible to check it, and before an alarm could be turned in the plant was doomed. The plant represented an investment of about $400,000, and according to the statement of Assistant Manager Benjamin, it has been damaged to the extent of between $250,000 and $300,000. The total insurance carried by the company approximated $250,000. When the fire spread from the rendering room to the engine-room, severe damage was done to the boiler tanks and the engine. The boiler tanks occurred and tongues of flame leaped high in the air. Every effort was made to confine the fire to the four walls of the rendering room, but the flames continued to eat their way westward to other portions of the plant, until the office building was endangered. There were six engines and a large number of hose companies engaged and every available stream was turned on the buildings. Chief Strohm directed his men toward the eastern end of the structure, but later they were removed to the other side in an effort to prevent the spread of the destroyer. When it became evident that the large brick structure was doomed, and that other buildings were threatened, a herd of hogs was removed from the slaughter-house, and the horses were taken from the stables. Inside the office books and papers were hastily placed in the vaults, but these latter precautions proved unnecessary. In the cold storage plant, which contained about 200 dressed beefs and about 40 carcasses of recently slaughtered sheep were stored, and these were hastily moved out. There were several hundred cases of canned goods and hams and a lot of dressed beef which could not be reached, and all of these were destroyed. One of the heaviest items of loss sustained in the machinery. The engine-room contained three high-speed Corliss engines and two of the latest Corliss machines of large capacity, in addition to all other necessary apparatus for refrigerating and conducting operations throughout the entire plant. The machinery was of modern type, and it is said it cannot be duplicated on the Pacific Coast. When the fire was at its height one of the walls on the north side suddenly fell, and narrowly missed Chief Strohm and half a dozen firemen who were fighting at that point. There were a fire shot outward, and it was only by hard work that the flames were kept within bounds and prevented from spreading to the entire plant. The plant, in which were stored thousands of pounds of dressed beef. The fire was practically under control at 11:30 o'clock, but it was not continued until an early hour this morning. The Cudahy Packing Company was the largest establishment of its kind in the city and employed about 170 men. The plant is situated on Mary street, adjoining the Los Angeles River, and extends to the main line of the Santa Fe on the west, covering an area of twelve and one-half acres. The establishment has thirty-two departments, and of these the following were completely destroyed: Canning department, lard refining, fertilizer, lard filling, glue room, beef slaughter rooms, hog slaughter and hog rendering rooms, cold storage department No. 4, and engine-room. Shortly before midnight Assistant Manager Benjamin stated that he thought his estimate of the loss would prove approximately correct. Members of the Underwriters' Association were on the ground, but were not able to give an accurate estimate of the entire loss, and this cannot be ascertained for several days. WILL BE REBUILT. Very shortly after the extent of the fire was realized a telephone message was sent to Michael Cudahy at his winter home in Pasadena. Mr. Cudahy when interviewed by a Times reporter said: "All I know about the fire is that the plant is burning up and that probably it cannot be saved. I have not been in close touch of late with the Los Angeles branch, but I will say that it will be rebuilt as soon as the ashes cool. It was sufficiently large and the new structure will occupy the same site, and will probably be constructed along similar lines to the one which has been destroyed. The famous pork packer was in no way flustered over the big blaze, and good naturedly shrugged his shoulders and said: "Oh, it is one of those things which are bound to happen and which have to be put up with."

POLICEMAN BEHIND DOOR.

Hot Ruction at Meeting of Mining Company.

Promoter Hides an Officer in His Closet.

Row Over Plan to Vote Stock that Was in Escrow.

Did the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company attempt to get the best of the original owners and the minority stockholders of the Rhinegold mine, a Los Angeles corporation, by voting a block of stock of the value of $40,000 which had been placed in escrow for development work on the Rhinegold mine? At a meeting held Monday night at the residence of P. C. Eddy, No. 409 North Pasadena avenue, Pasadena, the alleged deal is said to have been attempted by Eddy, who is vice president of the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company and an officer of and a large owner of stock in the Rhinegold mine. The story as told by one of the minority stockholders is in effect that Eddy called a meeting of the stockholders of the Rhinegold mine. This meeting was held at his residence. A block of stock was represented by proxies, which, with the $40,000 of Consolidated Mines escrow stock, gave a balance of power to Eddy and his friends. The Eddy faction then proposed that the Consolidated Mines Company take over the Rhinegold mine, issuing stock in the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company to pay for the same. The latter company is capitalized at $2,000,000 and the former at $1,200,000. Stock was to be issued share for share. The Rhinegold mine is located in the Gold Roads district in Arizona, and is said to have recently developed into a bonanza. Carl J. Eddy, a Los Angeles contractor, the man who built the Pacific Electric building at Sixth and Main, and is largely interested in Los Angeles realty and various mining enterprises, is one of the three original owners of the Rhinegold property. His partners, Henry Grimes and Charles J. Eddy, are the managers of the mine and have been on the spot ever since the property was opened. As is often the case, cash ran out before the mine was on a paying basis. A fiscal agent suggested hypothecating $40,000 of Rhinegold stock to carry on certain development work, which was thought would place the mine on a paying basis. A block of stock was therefore placed in escrow, as security for the mine, and the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company, and it is this block of stock that Eddy and his friends are charged with attempting to vote at the meeting last Monday night. It is questioned if the action would have been legal, even if it had been successful. The stock was in escrow with the Consolidated Mines Company. When certain results were obtained from the Rhinegold mine, the stock was to be returned to the Eddy faction. The minority stockholders say that this block of escrow stock and the shares held by men interested in the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company constituted a balance of power, and but for threats of personal violence by the minority the "deal" would have been put through at this meeting. The minority representatives were prepared to fight and it looked like a bloody scrap at one time. One of the intended victims, who gave the story dead away, says that Eddy secreted a policeman in his house before the meeting. This is explained by a friend of that gentleman by the allegation that a week previous one of the men who charges an attempt to squeeze the minority holders attended a conference at the home of Eddy. A personal altercation occurred, and it was known at the time that Eddy came off victor. It is said that Eddy anticipated trouble at the meeting Monday evening, and engaged the policeman in advance. Eddy was a close during all of the time the meeting lasted. The Los Angeles Mining Review for May 14, gives the following information, about the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company: "The Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company is an organization of Pasadena capitalists, a close corporation, owning by purchase nine mining claims in the San Francisco mining district, near Nigger Head Butte and directly on a line between the Leland group and the Gold Road mine. The main office of the company is at Pasadena, and the officers are: P. C. Eddy, president and general manager; S. W. Grimes, treasurer; S. P. Bangham, secretary. Messrs. Charles J. Eddy, E. W. Herlihy and T. M. Lancaster are among the directors." Lancaster & Shellhamer are the fiscal agents of the company, and H. Grimes is its attorney. Merely as an interesting fact in connection with the matter it is recalled that a few days ago Charles Grimes, of Pasadena, a man of means, who has been remarkably successful in business affairs, advertised that he would sell 10,000 shares of stock in the Pasadena Consolidated Mines Company at 10 cents a share. The stock has been regularly quoted at 50 cents a share. Grimes is known to have found a buyer for all of his holdings. D. W. Herlihy, mentioned as one of the directors of the company, is a Pasadena grocerman of unimpeachable standing. There are, however, others, though not all of the directors and officers, are among the most reputable of Pasadena's business men.

THE BISHOPS' HOME PLACES.

Important Question Settled Last Night by Committee on Episcopacy.

Last night the Committee on Episcopacy fixed the places of residence of the bishops for the next four years as follows: New York—Bishop Fowler. Boston—Bishop Goodell. Philadelphia—Bishop McCabe. Washington—Bishop Cranston. Cincinnati—Bishop Spellmeyer. Buffalo—Bishop Berry. Chicago—Bishop McDowell. St. Louis—Bishop Fitzgerald. Denver—Bishop Warren. Chattanooga—Bishop Wilson. Minneapolis—Bishop Joyce. Portland—Bishop Moore. San Francisco—Bishop Hamilton. Shanghai—Bishop Bashford. Zurich, Switzerland—Bishop Burt. Buenos Ayres—Bishop Neely. The bishops were nervous yesterday over their appointments to cities, which will be announced today. These appointments are made in accordance with conditions that prevail in an annual conference just before appointments are fixed and announced. The assignments made some division and will cause some disappointment to bishops and cities alike. Dr. Lucas has retired from the office of the Epworth Herald editorship and will run for the secretaryship of the Sunday-school Union. Dr. Herben will now become without doubt the editor of the Epworth Herald. The Atlantic Coast thus receives one position made vacant by Bishop Berry. Will the Pacific Coast receive the other position, the secretaryship of the Epworth League? Will Los Angeles be honored?

MR. SCULLIN'S SHADY PAST.

'APOSTLE OF PEACE' KEPT A TOUGH SCIENTIFIC JOINT.

Place Was a Son of Roadhouse Frequented by Questionable Characters of Both Sexes. Where Orgies of the Most Hilarious Type Constituted the Proceedings. Patrick Henry Scullin, the self-constituted apostle of industrial peace, has come to San Francisco to attend a meeting of the members of the National Industrial Peace Union, so the Evening Express announces. As Patrick Henry is the president and practically the whole board of directors of the N.I.P.U., he will probably have a quorum when he gets to the Bay City. The same veracious chronicler of the news in the twilight hours also announces that Scullin intends to continue his "peace" here, and to make it appear that Scullin has a work to perform. It is alleged in disclosures given the taker by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. The Times, having good reasons to suspect Scullin's disinterestedness in his "labor" for industrial peace, and having heretofore given warning to citizens to beware of him, took the trouble to send a reporter for a report, and last night received the following special dispatch from a reliable correspondent at that place: SEATTLE, May 24.—Exclusive Dispatch.—Patrick H. Scullin is an Irishman by birth who came to Seattle about ten years ago from nobody knows where. For several years he conducted a resort called "The Laurin Shade" on Lake Washington, near where the Madison Pavilion now stands. The place was a "joint" in the accepted sense of the word. It was a cheap concert hall, resorted to by questionable characters of both sexes, a sort of roadhouse, where orgies of the most hilarious type constituted the proceedings. Just how the shady Scullin came out of business nobody seems to remember, but Scullin about had a dozen years ago Scullin broke out in a new role, his special hobby was the National Peace Union, a scheme evolved by him for the universal arbitration of all difficulties between labor and capital. He advocated this on the stump, or rather on the street corner, and he could get a handful of persons to listen to him. He wrote numerous articles for the newspapers, few of which ever found their way in print. He persistently haunted the platform builders of parties whenever a convention was in session, and he came to be regarded as a public nuisance. During the exciting campaign for the outlaw Tracy, two years ago, Scullin went to Ravensdale after Tracy disappeared in that locality, and tried to persuade the searching police to allow him to go into the woods alone to bring Tracy out. Scullin said: "I will tie a white rag on the back of the man, and you can find him. When I talk to him a few minutes I will persuade him to come along with me to see Sheriff Cuddehe and settle the thing amicably." Scullin's plan was rejected by the posse, but he kept talking it. He had no money, but for a day or two he kept going to him. When he was out of the stores by giving orders on Sheriff Cuddehe. When Patrick came back to Seattle he was plainly in a state of mental aberration. He was such a nuisance that he was snubbed on every hand. He made some covert threats and finally the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and the editor of a daily paper caused an inquest of lunacy to be held in his case, which resulted in his going to the asylum for the insane. He remained there about four weeks and was discharged. He came back and was comparatively quiet for a time and about the last thing he was known to do was to institute an action for $10,000 damages against the two men who were charged with instrumental in sending him to the asylum. Shortly afterwards he disappeared, and the city had forgotten him until the news came over the wire from Los Angeles that he had turned somebody there to take him seriously.

WOMAN ASSAULTED.

Mrs. C. W. Queens of Alvarado Street Knocked Down Last Night on Hoover Street.

Mrs. E. W. Queens of No. 1048 South Alvarado street had an unpleasant experience last night shortly after 9 o'clock that she will be likely to remember for some time. While on her way to the residence of a friend at No. 1115 Hoover street and when near that house, she noticed a young man following her. Almost immediately he ran up to her and knocked her down. She screamed lustily for help and pedestrians in the neighborhood ran to her assistance and secured the brute away. Mrs. Queens did not take particular notice of the fellow, but she describes him as a light-complexioned man of

Conference to Rush With Afternoon Sessions University Charter.

WHERE BISHOPS WILL RESIDE.

THE LUMPING OF BENEVOLENCES DISCUSSED.

Sharp Debates Heard in the General Conference Yesterday — Ten Editors Elected for Church Publications—Regular Afternoon Sessions to be Held Hereafter.

An interesting contest was shot into the general conference yesterday morning by the committee on episcopacy. Dr. Buckley got the consent to put it in as an innocent thing which he thought would not occasion long debate, but it put an end to the consolidation question for the day, showed the peace report out of sight, and consumed time that brought about the session of afternoon sessions for the conference.

The report proposed fixing bishop's residences in the following cities and by skillful handling the report was finally adopted.

MISSIONARY BISHOP JOHN W. ROBINSON, FOR INDIA.

ally adopted exactly as offered, although several hours were consumed in the debate. The cities named were: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Chattanooga, St. Louis, Chicago, Minneapolis, Denver, Portland, Washington, San Francisco, Zurich, (Switzerland) Buenos Ayres, Shanghai.

The first one upon the list as presented came from Dr. Butler of the City of Mexico. He moved to strike out Philadelphia and insert Fort Worth, saying briefly that the bishops were to be located all in a bunch in the east, leaving a vast territory without a bishop.

Dr. Kynett, leader of the Philadelphia delegation, was quick to come to the defense of the Quaker City and move to strike out Fort Worth and insert Buenos Ayres. During the course of his speech Dr. Kynett reminded the conference that he represented the greatest Methodist city on the globe, and when great things were needed Philadelphia was always first to be looked to. He created a laugh by this little twig of the lion's tail.

"You have been accustomed to look to Philadelphia for many things—except recently in the matter of filling offices."

O. J. Starnes, a colored delegate from Texas, came to the rescue of Fort Worth, enumerating the great distances the proposed plan placed out between his favorite city and the homes of the bishops as proposed, the nearest point being Chattanooga, 1,000 miles away.

"I'll tell you any moan," he said, "for fear you begin to think we're not anywhere," at which there was great laughter.

"We asked you for Dr. Cooke, but you thought otherwise and we finally agreed with you. We ask you now for an episcopal residence and want you to think of us when you vote."

"I think I think it would be a great insult to our good Bishop Fox to send another bishop to Philadelphia," [Great laughter.]

WOMAN FROM CHILE.

Mrs. I. T. Arma, of Chile, made a good plea for Buenos Ayres, which she felt had been attacked by Dr. Kynett. "Nobody is more sorry than I am," she said, "that the pieces of episcopal pie are not sufficient to go around. If you put out Buenos Ayres plan, you will leave a continent. I do not object to any of the cities having their bishops but I do object to leaving out a continent. But some of you say: 'Oh, never mind that; here is Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati; never mind about a continent.' Give it to us and give it to us quick, before somebody brings up some other place and proposes leaving Buenos Ayres out." [Laughter.]

As chairman of the committee Dr. Buckley had the final word in favor of the report and Philadelphia was adopted.

The next center to draw the fire was Cincinnati. A delegate from Omaha cited the fact that a little slice of territory 1,400 by 2,000 miles was left with but one bishop's residence—that at Denver.

"You can do it if you will," he said, "but might is not right, and I move that Omaha be submitted for Cincinnati."

Dr. Leonard picked up the gauntlet swung toward the portals of his city and declared that it would be a piece of unbelief to do such a thing and the conference agreed with him.

Dr. Stockwell of Oklahoma, stirred up the Portlanders by proposing to strike their town off the episcopacy map and put Oklahoma City in its stead. Dr. Foster was on deck the next minute with a map in his hand to show the vast empire without a bishop's residence should this be done, and Portland was rescued.

Dr. George Elliott made a last stand against Buenos Ayres, not because he had anything against Buenos Ayres but because he loved his own Detroit more, but it was no use. Mrs. Arma had settled that, and with all others on the list as it came from committee, it was adopted.

THIS IS UNAMERICAN.

The Judiciary Committee, to which was referred the question of the legal status of the Philippines, reported with many legal surroundings and explanations that while the Philippine Islands were United States territory they were across the sea and were therefore to be considered as foreign mission territory and might be so declared by the General Conference.

A minority report took the opposite side and quoted documentary evidence from the records of the United States courts to show that the Philippines are domestic territory and must so be considered by the conference as well as by the government.

The mind of the General Conference was made up at the start, for some reason and nothing beyond the reports would be heard. The "consolidation" cut off debate and the minority report policy adopted by a large majority.

AFTERNOON SESSIONS.

The General Conference had adopted the plan of the committee on episcopacy.

port of the committee a plan consolidating the work under four heads, as follows: Board of missions, board of church extension, board of education (including Freedmen's Aid), Sunday-school Union and Tract Society.

The first contest came before the committee to strike from the report of the committee the Sunday-school Union so that it might not become a Missionary Society, but he regretted that he could not see the difficulties in the way of consolidating the Educational Society and the Freedmen's Aid. He said referring to the work as one of the corresponding secretaries of the Freedmen's Aid:

"I have been there long enough to know that the people who are interested in the freedmen and are giving the $5000 lump sum and the $10,000 and $15,000 lumps are sending it because they believe we are doing the work."

"There is nothing about turning over the property in hands of the Freedmen's Aid, though I notice this is mentioned in the other cases, and this question would present great difficulties. The property would be turned over to the society should go out of existence this request must go back to the heirs."

"The colored conference last year increased their gifts by many hundreds of dollars and within the past quadrennium have placed in my hands in hard cash more than $22,000."

If the temper of the General Conference can be judged by its reception of the matter, we feel highly confident of no acceptance of the difficult and complicated scheme of consolidation on any lines. The discussion will be taken up again today.

EDITORS ELECTED.

If all the elections could go off with the easy grace of the one held yesterday for editors of the several publications of the church, much valuable time would be saved. In few cases was more than one man named for the place, but the successful ones were all elected on the first ballot, with the exception of the colored editor for the Southwestern Christian Advocate, although R. E. Jones, the winner of the prize, came within twenty votes on the first ballot. The other case of opposition was for the trip of the Western Christian Advocate, W. R. Halstead having received 182 votes against the 111 of Dr. Gilbert. Eighteen delegates had the temerity to vote against Dr. Buckley for editor of the Christian Advocate, while Frederick Muns received every vote cast for editor of the German paper, Dr. D. L. Rader, editor of the Daily Advocate, the organ of the conference, and a man who has stood in the spot light of Methodist affairs, may feel highly complimented upon the fact that but fifteen votes were recorded against him as becoming the new editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate. Others came even closer to striking out, as an evidence of good feeling and unity of sentiment the vote will prove interesting. It is as follows:

For editor of the Methodist Review, New York, T. V. Kelley received 654 votes; scattering 30.

For editor of the Christian Advocate, New York, J. M. Buckley received 682 votes; scattering 15.

For editor of the Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati, Levi Gilbert received 111 votes; W. R. Halstead 182; scattering 12.

For editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, Chicago, D. D. Constance received 683 votes; scattering 15.

For editor of the Central Christian Advocate, Kansas City, C. B. Spencer received 630 votes; scattering 15.

For editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, C. W. Smith received 637 votes; scattering 15.

For editor of the Southwestern Christian Advocate, New Orleans, first ballot, R. E. Jones 111; C. W. Jones 182; W. R. Halstead 182; C. D. Jones 30; scattering 12.

For editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, Portland, Dr. D. L. Rader received 622 votes; scattering 15.

For editor of the Christian Apologist, Cincinnati, A. J. Nast received 644 votes; scattering 2.

For editor of the Haus and Herd, Cincinnati, Frederick Muns received the entire vote cast, 660.

The election of an editor for the Epworth Herald was postponed pending a decision upon the proposition to separate it from the position of secretary of the same organization.

HE CAN BE HEARD.

Soon after the opening of the session yesterday morning, when there was a good deal of confusion, Bishop Walden who was wielding the gavel and sending his sonorous voice to the farthest seats, called out:

"Am I heard the rear of the hall?" "Yes," came in a chorus.

Bishop Walden (into voice): Pretty good for a supernumery.

FROM NORTHWEST.

Dr. Edwin M. Randall is urged for the position of general secretary of the Epworth League. He is a leader of young people and seems abundantly qualified for the position.

Graduated from Yale University, and immediately entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church. Until 1888, he served churches in Eastern Kansas, and was at different times president of the District League, as well as president of the State League during the period of its organization. During this time he also served as the corresponding secretary of the Eleventh General Conference District.

In the early nineties, he was sent to the First Church, Leavenworth, Kan., a church torn asunder by factions. He led its two young people's societies. He healed the soreness and welded the young people of the church into a united body of the Epworth League, which led to one of the greatest revivals that ever came to that church.

In 1894, he was transferred to the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Seattle, Wash., at that time that church with a membership of 550, was confronting the problem of the "down-town" church with its naturally decreasing membership. In his six years and ten months ministry there the membership was increased to over 1200 and the Epworth League built up to upward of 400.

In May 1903, he was elected president of the University of Puget Sound at Tacoma. The university was without resources or property, as well as encumbered by the bad reputation of a former institution that had been in the same field. But Bishop Walden occupied the several pulpits on the following Sabbath. Careful attention is given the claims of every representative, and the adjustment made is not always in regard to the largest church, but often with respect for the greatest need.

There are many scenes which gladden the heart of the earnest young pastor as he attends to the routine duty of daily work, and the grateful light in the eyes of some tired servant of God is ample remuneration for his vexatious which sometimes present themselves.

There comes to the desk a humble pastor, whose silvered locks bear silent token to the many years of faithful service. Listen as he asks that some preacher who is not too busy may come and speak words of cheer to his little congregation on the following Sabbath.

The good man's clothes are brushed to the shining point. Never before in all his life has he attended a General Conference. He is sure he is asking too much, and as he patiently waits for the answer, is ready to apologize for his presumption. The genial aide, after being absent some time, finally returns, and taking the hand of the "man of God," says, "Yes, my brother, Bishop McCabe has consented to preach for you next Sunday morning."

That night around the family altar, in a modest little paragon, the good man fervently thanks God for the spirit of brotherly kindness that dwells in the hearts of the great men of Methodism.

Another comes from the outlying districts, where the crops have been scant and times so hard that a debt of a thousand dollars still hangs like a heavy cloud over the little flock of worshippers. A man who deals in the hundred thousands is sent. The little church will not contain the crowd; they are forced to hold an open-air service. The debt is quickly raised and the man who brought about the beautiful modern structure.

There are also perplexing questions to be solved; and though the committee may appoint and assign, may settle

EDWARD M. RANDALL, Candidate for General Secretary of the Epworth League.

Cranston said, "Dr. Randall can make it go." He severed his relationship with the Seattle church, July 1, within three months from that date he opened a new church in Seattle, and gave a $20,000 building free from debt. He closes the year with an enrollment of more than 200. School property worth $25,000 to $40,000 has been secured from almost every walk in life, who are ready to serve willingly when the need becomes urgent.

FIRING LINE OF METHODISM.

REV. H. W. WHITE RELATES SOME EXPERIENCES.

Sending Out the Heavy Ordnance, Pulpit Supply Committee's Task, Good Bishop Surprises Mumble, Pastor-Delta Wiped Away and Churches Dedicated.

Not the least of the great routine business of the Methodist General Conference now in session is the work of the Committee on Pulpit Supply, which has been rightly called the firing line of local Methodism. Rev. H. W. White, pastor of the newly-dedicated Pio Heights Methodist Church, gives an interesting account of the labors of the aides-de-camp of the General Conference, to whom belongs the special duty of listening to the requests from the different pastors and laymen who are anxiously seeking the best and arrange, they may at last find all their carefully-laid plans swept to the winds, so difficult to handle in the heavy ordnance of the General Conference. The big-caliber guns unlimber slowly, and when once in action are often uncontrollable.

Bishops do not easily obey the mandates of any body of men, and the task of distributing the greatest minds in Methodism, where they will accomplish the most in a given time has called for a nicety of adjustment that will work without friction. In order that the multiplicity of claims may receive equal attention.

Then there are the complaints which sometimes come thick and fast. My preacher failed to arrive last Sunday, says one man. "Yes," comes the answer. "The Committee on Episcopacy was in session until 11:30 o'clock Saturday evening, and the preacher was promised was completely worn out. We will try to send one of the brand new bishops next Sabbath," and as the smile returns to the man's face he seems to appreciate the special favor granted.

But the hardest man of all to deal with is the one who thinks the General Conference is run for his special benefit, and that the great men have come from India, Africa and the islands of the sea in order to preach in his pulpit. There is a happy scarcity of such men, who seldom appear more than once, and having made the initial effort, turn away as if they felt the committee and the whole General Conference had failed to grasp a splendid opportunity.

An interesting summary has been made of the men who are the most sought after. Bishop McCabe is perhaps the most popular man in attendance on the conference. Bishop Isaac W. Joyce, and our incomparable bishop, John W. Hamilton, rank high on the list. There is a decided boom this week in new bishops, and the committee is swamped with requests for Bishops Berry and Burt. Among the younger men, Rev. Matt S. Hughes, the lawyer, preacher, who is undoubtedly in line for the bishopric, is easily first.

Rev. H. W. White said yesterday: "My work as a whole has been most pleasant. We have no small men at the General Conference, and we are never obliged to apologize for any pulpits supplied. When we cannot send a bishop, a financial secretary will perhaps be available, and if not we rely on the pastors of the great city churches to fill the places of these men. We have never been at a loss to find the man who is large enough to fill the largest place to which he may be assigned. Beside all these we have a reserve force of judges, eminent lawyers, senators and in fact professional men from almost every walk in life, who are ready to serve willingly when the need becomes urgent."

The members of the Committee on Pulpit Supply are: Chairman, Rev. E. A. Henly of University Methodist Episcopal Church; secretary, Rev. Edwin H. Prentiss of Haven Church; Rev. Wilbur F. Ferguson of People Heights; H. W. White, Pio Heights, and Presiding Elder J. B. Green. These men have worked silently, carefully and well, and while the thousands of the General Conference have sounded through the little booth in the annex, the aides-de-camp have worked steadily on, providing for the raising of church debts and the dedication of the many new edifices that adorn our city. Each man has been chosen because of special qualifications. Bishop Foster, who is local Methodism has been advanced and prospered, because the members of this important committee have conscientiously sought the best man for the City of the Angels.

Not the least of the great routine business of the Methodist General Conference now in session is the work of the Committee on Pulpit Supply, which has been rightly called the firing line of local Methodism. Rev. H. W. White, pastor of the newly-dedicated Pio Heights Methodist Church, gives an interesting account of the labors of the aides-de-camp of the General Conference, to whom belongs the special duty of listening to the requests from the different pastors and laymen who are anxiously seeking the best

PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Chief Hammel, police commissioner, instructed by the Police Commission to investigate the character of religious services held by certain street preachers. The chief said that he understood that in some instances imposters were masquerading as evangelists of recognized religious denominations.

Mayor Snyder yesterday received a letter from Mrs. Ellen Bush of Zion City, Ill., stating that if the Mrs. Bush who faked an attempted suicide recently by throwing herself and children in front of a Main-street car, would return to Zion City she would be well cared for there.

J. Harvey McCarthy yesterday told the commission that on Monday he would deposit a certified check with the Council to bind an obligation to build the outfall sewer for $20,000 less than the lowest bid made. He has not yet put up, and Councilmen are skeptical.

T. Hastings Jones-Batemans was acquitted yesterday before Judge Trask of bigamy in having married Miss Catherine Quinn.

Dr. A. F. Schiffman won a judgment in the suit brought against him by J. Rodney Lang to recover $15,000 in damages.

The suit of D. S. Reynolds against the Pacific Electric Company et al., to compel the street railroad to issue transfers to and from the Ninth-street cars, was submitted yesterday to Judge Conroy's court.

Chief Hammel to Investigate—All persons who abuse privileges of the city by holding religious services on the streets will be investigated. Police Commissioner Hammel yesterday instructed his subordinates to investigate the character of religious services held by certain street preachers. The chief said that he understood that in some instances imposters were masquerading as evangelists of recognized religious denominations.

Members of the police force are lending valuable service to the City Tax and License Collector in detecting violations of existing ordinances by fruit and vegetable peddlers. The license ordinance provides that a fruit peddler shall pay $1 a month license, but that one who sells both fruit and vegetables shall pay $5 a month. In the city there are over 200 fruit and vegetable peddlers. Most of them have been in the habit of taking out fruit licenses only. Recently the police made a number of arrests of violators of the vegetable ordinance. Convictions were secured in the Police Court and the result has been that now over 500 vendors pay both licenses. This means a revenue of $2500 monthly to the city.

More License Money.

Bacteriologist of the health department yesterday revealed the fact that hog cholera exists in herds of swine feeding in the San Fernando Valley. A morning brought to the health officer the carcass of a pig which recently formed one of a Tropic herd. He said he had called upon to treat hog cholera for a disease that resembles cholera, and he wanted to be sure that he had made a proper diagnosis. The "hog" test quickly revealed the cholera germ. Meat Inspector Hughes will now redouble his efforts to keep diseased meat off the local market.

No Call for Charity.

Mrs. Ellen Bush of 2006 Elisha avenue, Zion City, Ill., mother of the husband of the Mrs. Bush of this city who recently was charged with dragging her three children on the track in front of a Main-street car and pretending that she wanted to be run over by the company that had killed her husband, has written to Mayor Snyder that if her daughter-in-law will return to Zion City she will be well cared for there. The letter intimates that there is no occasion for the frantic appeals that are now being made in Los Angeles to save the woman and her children from alleged "starvation."

Charges against Police Officers Wood and Glenn.

Charges against Police Officers Wood and Glenn, who were accused by William Scherz of forcing an entrance into his house and remaining there an undue length of time, were yesterday dismissed by the Police Commission. Mr. Vacher's attorney told the commission that his client had decided that the proper method of procedure would be a civil suit, and that he would not press the case before the Police Commission.

Chief Hammel looked slightly embarrassed.

Chief Hammel looked slightly embarrassed when he was asked to pass on the orthodoxy of the applicants. "No, not just that," was the rejoinder, "but you must tell us whether, in your opinion, the applicants are within the provision of the ordinance."

"If I am to be made the judge," responded Chief Hammel, "I shall be compelled to ask the commission to revoke some of the permits now in force."

THE COMMISSION DENIED THE APPLICATION.

Mat Kulich filed a sworn charge against Police Detective J. R. Ritch, accusing him of conduct unbecoming an officer. The specific charge was that on the afternoon of May 1 Kulich offered advice to Ritch as to how the latter should proceed in arresting a drunken Mexican, and was cursed for his pains. The charges will be heard by the commission next Tuesday morning.

A New Richmond?

J. Harvey McCarthy, the noted humorist and Democratic politician, says that he is going to submit a bid to the Council Monday for the construction of the outfall sewer that will discount the lowest offer yet made at least $20,000. To a Councilman who yesterday told him that no more bids would be considered unless the present bids were rejected, McCarthy gave the assurance that "a little irregularity like that should not be considered among friends."

To Other Councilmen McCarthy said that his company could build the sewer for $425,000 and that he would deposit a certified check with the Council to guarantee this amount. As yet neither Mr. McCarthy nor his company has given anything tangible in support of their assertions and it remains to be seen whether they can make good.

Contractors whose bids are now under consideration before the Council were unkind enough to suggest that McCarthy might be figuring on building the outfall on the cumulative credit plan; that Orlando Fitzsimmons and S. P. Cressinger would probably go on his bond and that the job would be rushed through in order that the $20,000 might be available for campaign funds.

"It is up to Mr. McCarthy to put up a check to guarantee a low bid in case we renege," said a member of the Sewer Committee last night. "This is a hot-air proposition."

Members of the police force are

Mrs. Ellen Bush of 2006 Elisha avenue,

Zion City, Ill., mother of the husband of the Mrs. Bush of this city who recently was charged with dragging her three children on the track in front of a Main-street car and pretending that she wanted to be run over by the company that had killed her husband, has written to Mayor Snyder that if her daughter-in-law will return to Zion City she will be well cared for there. The letter intimates that there is no occasion for the frantic appeals that are now being made in Los Angeles to save the woman and her children from alleged "starvation."

This will probably put a stop to the endless chain subscription sympathy game that Mrs. Bush and her confederates have been playing here since her husband's death. Some disgusted persons yesterday went so far as to suggest that, if the woman did not get out of town, she should be arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses as a warning to others of her ilk.

At the time the Los Angeles Mrs. Bush

did her melodramatic act in front of the street car and followed it up with her story of being left destitute by the death of her husband, the officers of the Associated Charities asked that before public subscriptions were taken up the case be investigated. Nothing was then said of the woman's unworthiness, but it was suggested that it would be well to investigate first and act afterwards. A morning paper, however, in search of something on which to bolster up a sensational story, rushed along a subscription list, which was just what the fact-finders wanted. Many persons who should have known better made liberal donations. Mrs. Bush later confessed to the Associated Charities that the street-car scene had been carefully rehearsed beforehand and was for herself and sentiment against the railway company.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

ONE WIFE IS DROPPED OUT.

T. H. J. Bateman acquitted on bigamy charge.

Was Not the Husband of Miss Bird When He Was Joined in Marriage to Miss Catherine Quinn.

For Both Were Subsidiary to the Canadian Marriage.

Thomas Hastings Jones-Batemans

is said to be a very much-married man, and, indeed he has himself acknowledged the superfluity of wives in this regard that has fallen to his portion. But he has to answer for trying to corner the marriage mart, and yesterday he was tried for bigamy.

The trial was before Judge Trask and a jury and resulted in a victory—technical, it is true, but a victory all the same—for the action of the English aristocrat. He was charged with having married one Catherine Quinn while he was the husband of one Florence Bird. It developed, however, that he never was the husband of Miss Bird, but was merely dallying with the matrimonial chain as far as she was concerned. In just the same way that he dalled with Miss Quinn. And there are more.

There was quite a noisy throng in court to see Bateman brought to task and convicted of his wickedness. Bateman was under the same delusion as to his own worth as he was in his moneyed days to run his horse-racing tandem. There was a large sprinkling of women—young ones at that—in the courtroom, and two or three clerics sat through the trial and looked the curfew, it was come. That Bateman was to go free was unexpected, and the audience had cause to be disappointed.

When Detective Paul E. Flammer

went upon the stand he more than offset the testimony the parents. Not as to age; but though that testimony was not controverted save by a school teacher, and as school ages are not always accurately given, Detective Flammer testified to Freidenburg being such a confirmed young scamp that he never let a chance slip by him. He testified that he had seen Bateman in the State's prison. He testified that he had seen Bateman in the State's prison. He testified that he had seen Bateman in the State's prison.

TO COMPEL TRANSFERS.

REYNOLDS CASE SUBMITTED.

Trial of the suit of D. S. Reynolds against the Pacific Electric Railway Company and the Los Angeles Railway Company, to compel by writ of mandate the issuance of transfers from the Ninth-street cars to cars on intersecting lines, and vice versa, was begun yesterday in Judge Conroy's court.

THE DEFENDANTS IN THEIR ANSWER

denied that Reynolds was a constant patron of their lines, but yesterday, for the purpose of eliminating the boy-calculation as far as possible and get down to the basis of the contention, this and other matters were conceded.

E. J. Wilson, plaintiff's counsel, with

ONE OF BEST AUTO PARADES EVER SEEN IN UNITED STATES.

FEATURES OF THE AUTOMOBILE PARADE:
(1) An aluminum curiosity. (2) A. E. Poole and party in white. (3) The very cutest—Ethel Lena Starr. (4) A charming turnout. (5) T. A. Burrows in White Steamer. (6) Mayor Snyder and Mayor Vetter in President's car. (7) A Pretty car driven by Mrs. H. L. Percy.

Division F, twelve commercial vehicles, C. W. West, captain. An idea of the imposing extent of the parade may be gained from the fact that when the first vehicle reached Seventh street, going south on Spring street, after proceeding from the starting point up Broadway to First street, east on First street to Spring street, north on Spring street to Main street, south on Main street to First street, west on First street to Spring street, and thence to Seventh street, in close formation, the rear of the parade had not yet cleared the starting point at Broadway and Seventh street.

Chamber of Commerce, as well as Mayor Vetter of Pasadena, and members of the Council of that city, and regulated the speed of the procession to the requirements of the obnoxious ordinance. That the pace was tedious is putting it mildly. Buggies and delivery wagons passed the plying machines with aggravating frequency at a pace that seemed mad in comparison. At the scene of the demonstrations, at Adams and Figueroa streets, several machines selected for the purpose proceeded up and down the ranks at four, eight and fifteen miles an hour to impress more fully upon the minds of the guests the real meaning of these speed limitations, placards displayed from the autos showing the exact speed under exhibition.

Division C and D occupied the body of the procession, showing ninety-five gasoline and steam runabouts, captained by Fred L. Baker. Division E, led by Archie Thompson, consisted of ten electric passenger vehicles of different description.

ble property represented in such an assembly of automobile owners as yesterday's, these owners believe that they are entitled to more favors, and a meeting of the board of Southern California is to be held this week to consider framing a petition to the City Council, requesting the alteration of the speed ordinance. It seems to be the general opinion among those interested that automobilists should be allowed a maximum speed of at least fifteen miles an hour on open streets. This point has not yet been decided, however.

Dunn, applied for a franchise for a right of way along Fifth street, from Pacific avenue, west to the city limits. The matter came up at the meeting of the board, and it is expected that the petition will receive a favorable consideration. The section covered by the proposed line is the most desirable for the purpose of the franchise, and it is expected that the line will be built. The line would run along Fifth street, from Pacific avenue, west to the city limits. The line would be built by the Pacific Electric Railroad Company. ## POMONA.

TWO MEMORIAL SERVICES.

POMONA, May 24.—This year two memorial services will be held here. One, on the forenoon of Memorial Sunday, will be held by Rev. C. D. Williams, chaplain of the Seventh Regiment, under the auspices of Co. D., at the Armory and one in the afternoon under the auspices of the G.A.R., and W.R.C., in the Fraternal Aid hall, which President Gates of Pomona College will deliver the sermon. The usual memorial services will be held on Monday.

The Pomona Board of Trade's newly elected president is E. C. Bichowsky; Arthur M. Thomas, second vice president; W. A. Johnston, third vice president; R. K. Pitts, secretary and Allen Nichols, treasurer. The ladies of the Filadelfia Circle of the Macabees gave a dancing party at the Armory last night.

Mrs. Charles Wheelock, of San Francisco, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Armour for several days.

Mr. Padgham, of Long Beach, visited Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard yesterday. A. Lowry Curry was thrown from his horse last night at the corner of Third and Main streets, and sustained serious injuries.

Mr. A. D. Brown and wife of Livermore Falls, Me., are guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. Garwood.

Mrs. C. D. Williams has left for a visit at her former home in Bloomington, Ill.

DOLGEVILLE.

LARGER FACTORY SOON?

DOLGEVILLE, May 24.—The capacity of the Dolge mills, from the present flatter outlook and market for its output, will in the very near future necessitate the enlargement of the manufacturing facilities, the introduction of at least as much more machinery as is now in place, and perhaps an increase of two-thirds the present capacity.

Building contracts are let daily. Among the most recent are Mr. Liddell, who will build an eight-room home residence on Olive street, and D. M. Farrell, who will build a cottage home on Railroad avenue. Two new business buildings will go up on Palm avenue at once, one a two-story building by Dr. Wiegand, the other a one-story building, by Mr. Doane. The lumber is on the ground.

Visitors are also much interested in the great steel pipe and tank works of the Tullerday Manufacturing Company. The most modern and labor-saving machinery for this line of work is to be seen in the Tullerday manufacturing plant, several of which are Mr. Tullerday's own patents and cannot be seen elsewhere in the United States—namely the large machine which rolls sheets of steel into ten-foot strips of four-inch pipe as easily as a piece of cardboard. Compressed air is used to operate several machines, including the riveting machine, which rivets the tracks of the Pacific Electric railway on Main street through Alhambra. When this work is done the street will be closed, it is said.

Another carload of machinery for the felt factory has arrived and will be at once placed in the Dolge mills. This is one of several delayed carloads.

Wool washing will begin next week, the carding room will be in full running order by June 10, the fulling-room by the 15th, finishing-room on the 20th, and by the last of June it is expected the large factory will be in full operation and turning out immense quantities of the famous Dolge felt.

Henry A. Dolge, son of Alfred Dolge, will leave for his alma mater, at least a charming Dolgeville young woman, Miss Jessie Volt, daughter of Andrew Volt, who is connected with the Dolge mills. The beginning of the life romance of the happy young couple was in Dolgeville, N. Y., and now the consummation will come in the new and promising Dolgeville of the West. Henry Dolge is the buyer for the Dolge-Posey Company, manufacturers of piano sounding boards, Los Angeles.

The Alfred Dolge Manufacturing Company is showing to the world that California's wools are the finest to be found anywhere. The sorting of a large quantity of California wool at the Dolge factory shows that it sorts down finer than any wool received, not excepting the famous Cape wool grown in Africa.

The 300-horse boiler installed for the purpose of supplying steam for fulling and dyeing is working satisfactorily.

W. T. Noble, secretary of the Alfred Dolge Manufacturing Company, has returned from an eastern business trip.

The first picnic will take place June 4, with a picnic during the day and masquerade ball at the auditorium in the evening.

The Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements to off all the improved streets. Work commenced today.
